

American Board of Neuroscience Nursing Candidate Guidelines For 2018 Public Member Appointments

The American Board of Neuroscience Nursing (ABNN) is the independent, not-for-profit certifying corporation established to design, implement, and evaluate a certification program for professional nurses involved in the specialty practice of neuroscience nursing and its subspecialties.

The ABNN Board of Trustees (BOT) is composed of the following:

- Up to eight (8) Trustees appointed by the Board, upon recommendation by the Nominating Committee, who hold the CNRN or SCRN credential and who are members in good standing of the American Association of Neuroscience Nurses (“AANN”)
- One (1) Trustee appointed by the Board of Directors of AANN (the “AANN Liaison”)
- At least one (1) public member, void of any healthcare interest, who is appointed by the Board.

Your decision to run for, or be appointed as, a Public Member of ABNN carries with it a serious responsibility. Individuals who serve on the BOT volunteer their personal time and effort into advancing the goals and objectives of ABNN. This candidate application booklet will help to inform you of those responsibilities.

Mission

The mission of ABNN is to advance neuroscience nurses’ practice and contributions to neurological health through certification of registered nurses.

Vision

ABNN’s vision is for every person with neurological health needs to receive excellent care from ABNN-certified registered nurses.

Objectives of ABNN

The purposes of ABNN are to:

- Encourage the study of knowledge relevant to Neuroscience Nursing and its subspecialties
- Determine minimum standards for eligibility for candidates interested in certification in Neuroscience and Stroke Nursing
- Develop, maintain, and administer a formal examination for certification reflecting current knowledge of the specialty of Neuroscience Nursing
- Grant and issue certificates with the CNRN and SCRN credential to professional nurses achieving successful completion of the certification examination
- Provide a mechanism for recertification in neuroscience nursing after completing initial certification requirements
- Protect the public interest by promoting the advancement and standards of Neuroscience Nursing and its subspecialties
- Maintain a registry of individuals holding active and lapsed certifications issued by ABNN
- Assure the financial viability of the certification and recertification programs

Core Beliefs of ABNN

The American Board of Neuroscience Nursing (ABNN) firmly believes in:

- Advancing nursing practice through accredited specialty certification programs.
- Developing fair and rigorous examinations.
- Collaborating with the American Association of Neuroscience Nurses (AANN) and the Agnes Marshall Walker Foundation (AMWF) to provide neuroscience nurses with resources to support certification and recertification.

General Responsibilities for Officers, Trustees, and Public Member

- Completes assigned tasks in a cost-effective, efficient manner
- Orients the successor to the position.

ABNN Public Member Purpose/Criteria:

Specialty nursing certification serves the general public, nursing profession, and specialty. Public input broadens the perspective of certifying organizations, enhances decision-making, and helps focus attention on consumer concerns as they relate to quality, cost effectiveness, and access to care.

The duty of the ABNN Public Member shall be to help assure that the certification programs are responsive to the needs of consumers of neuroscience and its subspecialties of nursing care. The public member should therefore be aware of issues facing individuals with neurological illnesses and be void of any healthcare interest. Public members may not be practicing Neuroscience Nurses, immediate relatives of Neuroscience Nurses, employees of Neuroscience Nurses, or of the ABNN's management or testing company. Public members will not have represented the ABNN or the profession of neuroscience nursing at any time during the three (3) years preceding initial appointment. The Public Member is a voting member of the ABNN BOT.

The duties of the Public Member shall be to:

- Participate in strategic planning and disciplinary decisions
- Attend all of the annual ABNN meetings held in the spring at the AANN meeting, as well as any other official board meetings scheduled during the year (as described above)
- Provide input on relevant issues, generally by phone or e-mail
- Maintain strict confidentiality concerning any examination or certification renewal information discussed at board meetings or conference calls

Estimated Time Commitments

Time commitments vary according to time of year and project responsibility. Travel to the annual educational meeting and attendance at a minimum of two additional board meetings is required. Failure to attend any/or all ABNN meetings or events may result in removal from the board. In addition to attending the Board meetings, which includes submitting and reviewing agenda materials, the candidate may assume the time commitment will be between 5 and 10 hours per month.

Application Process/Deadlines

Candidates must submit a typed, completed application, curriculum vitae, one (1) letter of reference, and a completed Code of Conduct and Disclosure Form and Conflict of Interest form.

Applications must be submitted electronically by September 20, 2017. Send completed applications to:
